In conversation with Joost Vantomme – CEO ERTICO (ITS Europe)

In this feature length episode now on the YouTube.com/@ITSNow channel, Alistair Gollop is joined from Brussels by Joost Vantomme, the CEO of ERTICO (ITS Europe). They talk about some of the challenges and look forward to the exciting future for the ITS sector, as Europe prepares for a major transition for mobility as emerging technologies and environmental constraints will alter how people and goods are transported. They also examine how the typically aging demographic of those working in ITS needs to be addressed in order to attract new entrants to the sector, along with some suggestions for areas of growth which may provide good career opportunities for younger colleagues to consider.
